Hingham High History

The first Hingham High School located on Central Street near Cold Corner, 1885

On May 1, 1872, the town of Hingham dedicated its first public high school. The principal was Mr. Jacob O. Sanborn. Thirty-nine pupils attended the first year. The building was a two-story wooden structure located on Central Street. On the first floor were the main schoolroom, two recitation rooms and two dressing rooms. The corridors were large, spacious and airy with wide staircases to the school hall and other rooms on the second floor. The hall, capable of seating 400 persons, was high-posted with a dome-like ceiling. Mr. David Leavitt of Hingham was the builder.

The second Hingham High School was also located on Central Street. It is a wood frame, slate-roofed, brick veneer structure built in 1928 on the former location of the Hingham Cordage Company. It was used as the high school until 1954 when it became a junior high school. It was closed as a junior high school in 1989. After extensive renovations, the building currently houses the town hall, police department, senior center and the administrative offices of the Hingham Public Schools.

The present high school was built in 1954 with an addition completed in 1965. A $25.9-million renovation and building project was approved at a town meeting in April 1997. The existing building was modernized and sixteen new classrooms were added. There was a complete replacement of electrical, heating, ventilating and plumbing systems. The library was expanded, and the space designated for music and drama was increased. The science laboratories are outfitted with all modern equipment, and there is a state-of-the-art foreign language laboratory. The rededication ceremony of Hingham High School took place on March 24, 2001.

Today the student population is 896 students in grades 9-12. The school provides a full range of programs including college preparatory, business and vocational training. Approximately 92% of Hingham High School graduates continue with formal education. In the Class of 2001, Hingham had nineteen National Merit Commended Scholars, three National Merit Semi-finalists, and twenty-two Advanced Placement Scholars. Ten Advanced Placement courses are offered in foreign languages, math, science, history, English and music. Students have the opportunity to learn and experience the construction trades through a half-day program of supervised work experience.

Hingham High School offers a myriad of extra- and co-curricular activities for students. The Drama Club stages three productions yearly including an entry in the Massachusetts Drama Festival. Music groups include the HHS Chorus, Choral Spectrum, Jazz Band, Mozart Ensemble, HHS Orchestra, String Ensemble, and Concert Band. These groups perform several times a year and participate in both state and regional competitions. Other co-curricular opportunities include the Boston Globe Arts Fair and History Day. Three seasons of sports for both boys and girls include football, cheerleading, soccer, field hockey, track, basketball, hockey, wrestling, gymnastics, tennis, softball, baseball, and lacrosse. Students also may assume a leadership role in the school by running for class office or a seat on the Student Council, Climate Committee, or School Council. In addition, a variety of other clubs ranging from the Latin Club to the school newspaper to the Biology Club provide students with the opportunity to explore other interests.
